Language Internship posts (level I1) in the Department for General Assembly and Conference Management (DGACM)	UN in New York, United Nations offices in Geneva, Vienna and Nairobi	DGACM language interns (about 20) in translation, interpretation, editorial and terminology for New York, Geneva and Vienna: applications were closed on 7 December. Selection of candidates currently in progress. Selected interns will be hosted from January to March.	Winter internships – create your profile now : https://inspira.un.org/psp/PUNA1J/?cmd=login&languageCd=ENG&) No professional experience is required. Candidates must be studying for a first level degree, Masters or Ph.D. (or equivalent) or have completed a degree within the last 12 months. Candidates must have a perfect command of one official language of the United Nations, which should be the candidate's main language, and a good comprehension of at least two others (even though in some cases one passive language is acceptable in conjunction with expertise in certain subject matters). Interns will translate, for training purposes, official documents, subject to review, from one or more official languages of the United Nations (Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian or Spanish) into another official language of the United Nations, which is considered the intern's main working (or active) language. Interns at United Nations Headquarters are not paid. All costs of travel and accommodation, including living expenses, must be covered by the intern or the sponsoring institution.
Internships for translation students (translators and/or CAT/language systems specialists)	IMF, Washington DC	Ongoing – each internship lasts about 3-6 months. Two to three internships are available per year.	Please see description under "Technology & General Services - Internship Program" at https://imf.taleo.net/careersection/imf_external/moresearch.ftl?lang=en
Training scheme for graduate translators	UN, Vienna	Traineeships can last from six to twelve weeks and can be arranged at any time of year.	No professional experience is required. Candidates are usually expected to have completed postgraduate studies in translation or at least the course work forming part of those studies. Candidates must have a perfect command of one official language of the United Nations (Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Russian or Spanish), which should be the candidate's mother tongue or main language, and a good comprehension of at least two others (although in some cases one passive language is acceptable in conjunction with expertise in certain subject matters). Trainees will translate official documents, subject to revision, from one or more official languages of the United Nations into their mother tongue or main language, which must be another official language of the United Nations. Trainees are paid at contractual rates for translation, according to pages translated, with a maximum number of pages set per day, as set out in a retainer contract. All travel and accommodation costs and living expenses are covered by the trainee. Trainees are given one-to-one guidance and feedback on their work.

Student traineeships, Internships and Work Experience Schemes at International Organisations and EU Institutions

Paid Translation/Terminology Fellowship Programme for Graduate Students (Patent Translation)	World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), Geneva	Ongoing with annual selection in March each year	Requirements Candidates should be currently pursuing or be a recent graduate of an advanced degree programme (Master's, Doctorate or an equivalent level degree) in translation, terminology or a related linguistic discipline. For Translation Fellows Prior experience in technical translation is considered to be an advantage and applicants are expected to be working into their native language.
			Desired language combinations vary each year with a strong emphasis on the CJK languages. In 2011, applications were accepted from candidates working in the following languages combinations only: Chinese to English, German to English, Japanese to English, Korean to English, Russian to English, German to French, and Japanese to French. For Terminology Fellows Prior experience in applied terminology would be considered an advantage and applicants are expected to be working in their native language. For candidates having a specialization in terminology, applications are invited from native speakers of Chinese, German, Japanese, Korean, Russian and Spanish only, who also have excellent knowledge of English.
			Persons interested in applying for a fellowship should send their CV or resume, ensuring that their name is included in all file name, accompanied by a letter of motivation indicating periods of availability, to PCT.Fellowship@wipo.int mentioning in the Subject field "Fellowship application", their language combination (e.g. Korean-English), and their preference either for "Translation" or "Terminology". Following an initial screening, candidates will be required to take a translation test and/or a terminology test. Duration of the programme is minimum 3 months.
Unpaid Translation Internship for Graduate Students	UNESCO, Paris	Ongoing	Enrolled postgraduate students are all able to apply for individual 1-4 month internships at UNESCO Headquarters and Field Offices. http://portal.unesco.org/en/ev.php- URL_ID=11716&URL_DO=DO_TOPIC&URL_SECTION=201.html

 the EU (GSC) offers three types of traineeship: paid traineeships; traineeships for trainees required to undergo a training period as a compulsory part of their Studies. Paid traineeships are offered to EU nationals who, by the deadline for the lodging of applications, have completed at least the first cycle of a course of university studies evidenced by a degree certificate or equivalent. Unpaid traineeships are offered to young third, fourth or fifth year students of a higher-education establishment or university whose programme of studies requires such a period of training to be undertaken. There are only a limited number of openings for such traineeships. The purpose of traineeships with the GSC shall be: to give trainees a general idea of the objectives and problems of European integration; to offer them personal experience thanks to the contacts made in the course of their everyday work; to enable them to further and put into practice the knowledge they have acquired during their studies or professional careers. 	(General Secretariat of the Council)	 Paid traineeships: Each year the General Secretariat of the Council offers some 95 paid traineeships lasting 5 months: 1 February to 30 June or 1 September to 31 January Unpaid traineeships: Starting dates and deadlines for receipt of applications: 1 February to 30 June / 1 October 1 September to 31 January / 1 April Applications for 2014 traineeships: The online application form will be accessible from 1 June 2013 to 31 August 2013 	The Traineeships Office of the GSC: E-mail: stages@consilium.europa.eu Tel.: +32.2.281.65.36 or +32.2.281.68.62 or +32.2.281.39.13 or +32-2-281.81.33 Fax: +32.2.281.84.44 www.consilium.europ.eu - Contacts - Traineeships

Paid interpretation traineeships for graduates	The European Court of Justice (The Interpretation Directorate)	Three series of traineeships per year: January-March April- June October-December	For more information on all of the above please see: http://www.europarl.europa.eu/interp/universities/index_en.html La Cour de justice offre un nombre limité de stages auprès de sa Direction de l'Interprétation. Ces stages rémunérés (1,120 € par mois) sont d'une durée approximative de deux mois et demi et sont destinés à permettre aux interprètes de conférence diplômés – dont la combinaison linguistique et/ou les connaissances juridiques sont particulièrement intéressantes – de se perfectionner dans l'interprétation juridique à la Cour de justice.

Pour 2013-2014 les stages seront effectués pendant les périodes suivantes: 1 ^{er} octobre au 15 décembre 2013 date limite pour le dépôt des candidatures: 30 avril 2013 15 janvier au 31 mars 2014 date limite pour le dépôt des candidatures: 30 juin 2013	Les candidats aux stages dans le service d'interprétation doivent avoir une formation complète d'interprète de conférence sanctionnée par un diplôme universitaire et avoir, au moins, soit deux langues passives (langue C), soit une deuxième langue active (langue A ou B). En outre, ils doivent avoir de bonnes connaissances en français , même si cette langue ne figure pas parmi leurs langues de travail. Vu le nombre très limité de places disponibles, une sélection est opérée entre les candidats. Les candidats doivent remplir le formulaire d'inscription, qu'ils pourront obtenir sur demande (Mme Bub-Aguilera: téléphone +352-4303.2126, télécopie +352-4303.4600) et qui est également disponible sur le site Internet de la Cour de justice (http://curia.europa.eu), et le renvoyer par courrier à l'Unité Ressources Humaines/Direction Générale du Personnel de la Cour de justice des Communautés européennes, L-2925 Luxembourg, accompagné d'un curriculum vitae détaillé et des copies des diplômes et/ou attestations .
1 ^{er} mai au 15 juillet 2014 date limite pour le dépôt des candidatures: 30 septembre 2013	Personne de contact : Daniela Amodeo-Perillo , chargée des stages, Direction de l'Interprétation, Cour de Justice (dap@curia.europa.eu)
